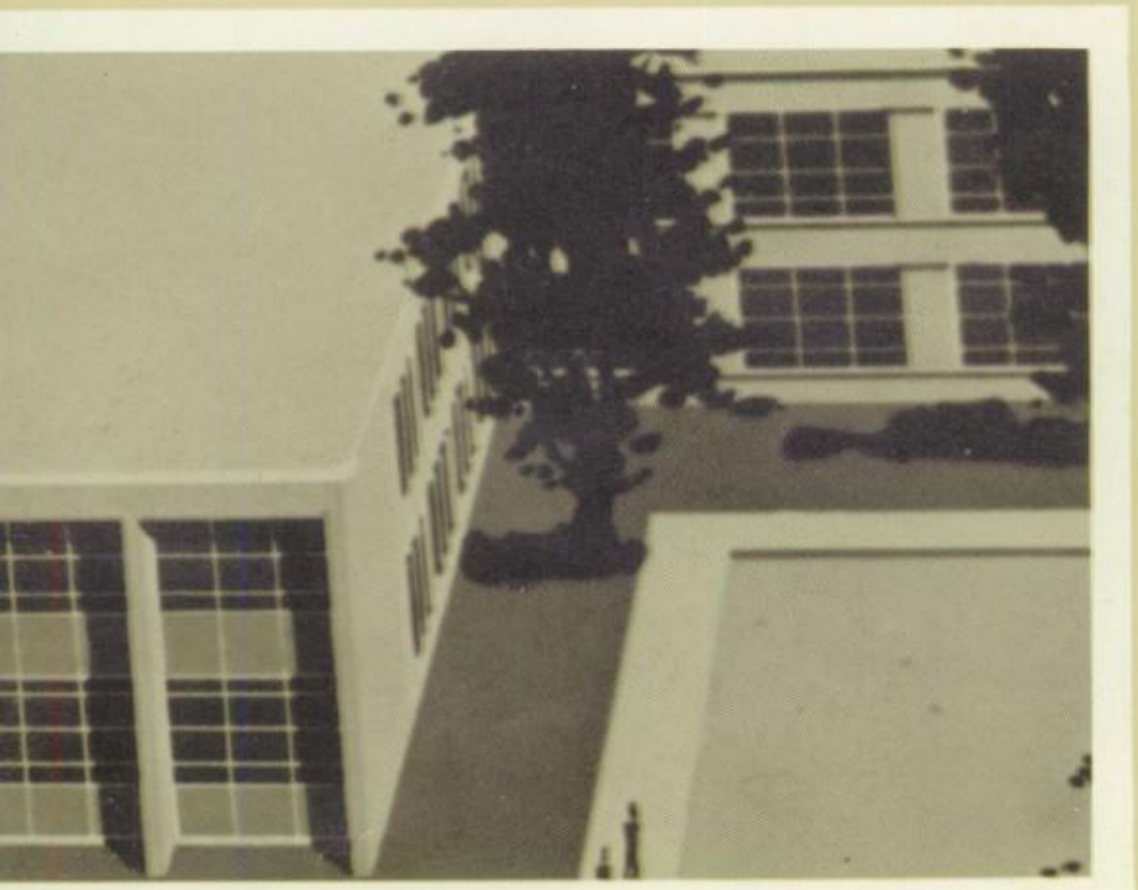
Anticipating the New



Several weeks before school gets under way, many students are seen entering school to discuss their schedules with our principal or the deans. Everyone is seen loitering in the halls, not only discussing their summer's activities, but also finding out if "the gang" is with him in his classes. A familiar sight during the first few weeks is the confusion of pupils finding themselves, to their dismay, in the wrong classrooms. Oh, if it weren't for those coat racks how would anyone know what was going on?

After about six weeks of confusion, almost everyone settles down, and the studying begins.

Lee-Anne Foster is receiving valuable guidance from Mr. Jones before she completes her schedule.

OFFICIALLY UNDERWAY

"I wonder what they're saying about us?" says a group of girls as they pass through the huddles of boys who have to have their last minute chat before entering the building.

Although the freshman class was given a rough but enjoyable afternoon by the seniors, they were rewarded with refreshments after the ordeal.

NOW THE ACTIVITIES ARE IN FULL

Mr. Barr, our new basketball coach, displays his ability of doing push-ups while being initiated on Freshman Day.

Freshman Initiation is an annual event that occurs at the beginning of each school year. This is the senior's first opportunity to "show off" their brightly colored and designed cords for which they are exceedingly proud. The seniors command the freshmen to undergo tasks that are sometimes unusual, but yet are inviting and entertaining to curious spectators. The tardy bell always seems to ring too soon for the freshmen as well as the seniors to arrive on time.

During the afternoon session held in the gym, the seniors conclude the initiation of the freshmen and give the new teachers a chance to perform before the student body. At the close of the program, the freshmen are told of the school's activities. The purpose and requirements of each organization are explained to help them in making their choice.

There's never a dull moment with THS students. Parties, dances, ballgames, club meetings, dates, and last but not least, so they say, comes homework. These are only a few of the many activities which make up a typical week for Tipton pupils.

Part-time jobs include babysitting, car-hopping at local drive-ins, clerking in stores, office work, and work at home also takes up much time.

There just aren't enough hours in the day to permit these teenagers to accomplish everything they would like to get done.

SWING

As every freshman will agree "those lockers certainly are high!" It is an extremely difficult problem if you are short as in the case of Jeannie Whelchel.

It may look crowded--which it is--but who cares as long as the girls are catching up on the "latest," and the management doesn't complain at the Blue Front.

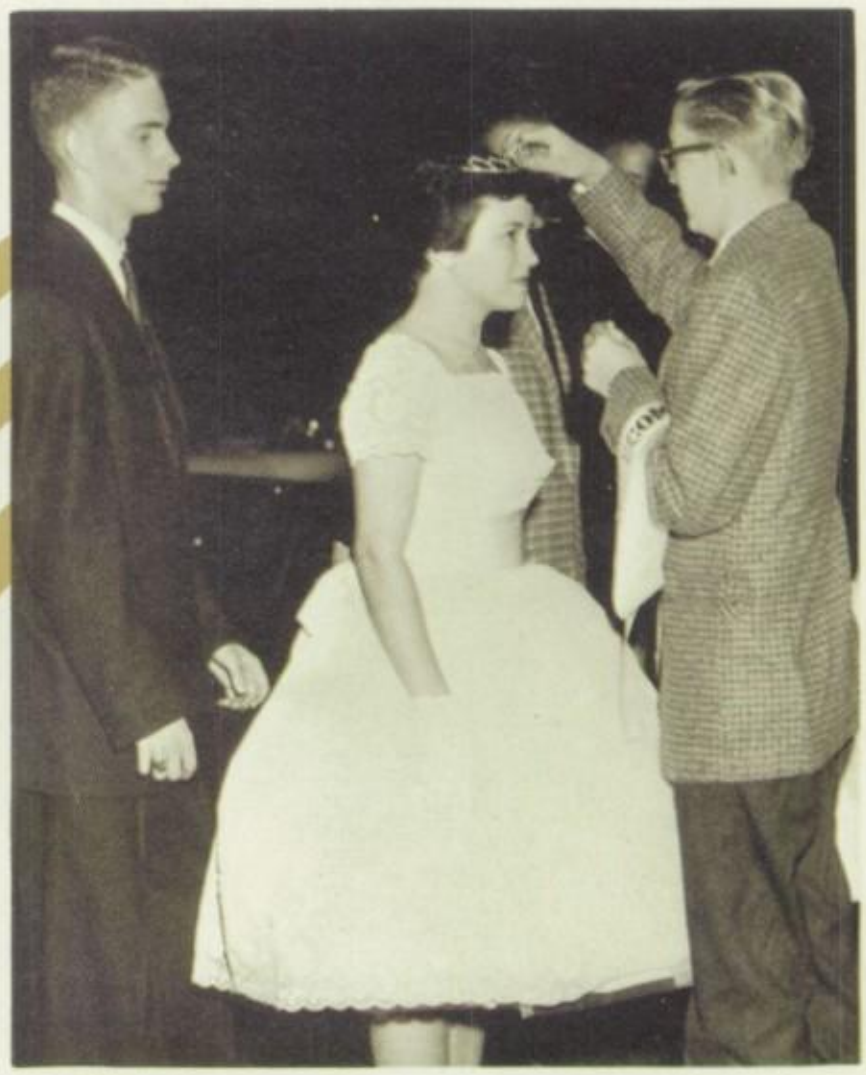
Many bystanders crowded their way to cheer on their favorite float as the Homecoming Parade slowly moved along.

PARADE + QUEEN

A typical 1960 Homecoming slogan came to life on the F.F.A. float.

The Junior Class achieved the honor of the winning Homecoming float depicting the theme, "Drag Em Down."

After several weeks of preparation, Homecoming Day arrived with much enthusiasm throughout the entire community. Yes, the floats' blue-prints came to life with clever ideas and arrays of colors. A tremendous crowd formed to view the spectacular parade as it slowly progressed through the town. Even though we experienced defeat from Noblesville, the overwhelming spirit remained unchanged as the queen and her court were presented before the spectators during the half-time ceremonies of the game. To climax the day, the Student Council sponsored the annual Homecoming Dance featuring Jake Hoover and his band. The queen and her court reigned over the dance which was enjoyed by many students.



Amos Patterson, President of the Student Council, crowns Judy Green, our lovely 1960 Homecoming Queen, as her escort, Mike Clark admires her.

+ GAME = HOMECOMING

Homecoming Queen, Judy Green, and her court, Judy Powell, Debbie Dearth, Roseanna Speer, and Jane Zaloudek, shown after the crowning and presentations during the half-time ceremonies.

T-JACKET AWARDS BACKED BY SCHOOL SPIRIT

Coach Weger gives an arousing pep talk to the student body during the "Reconstruction Campaign."

Because the school spirit of T.H.S. was getting mighty low, the pupils of Mr. Walker's 4th period speech class decided that something had to be done! A "Reconstruction Campaign" was organized. Speeches and poems were given by speech class members in an effort to raise school spirit. Through this great effort, plans for a boys' cheerblock were made and the school is now at a higher level of spirit. This spirit is necessary to encourage boys to work harder in their sports.

As a result of their efforts, many boys receive awards for their achievement. Our varsity lettermen always anticipate with much enthusiasm the presentation of the coveted T-Jackets. For this award athletes must have participated in a major sport for four years and earn two major letters.

Senior boys proudly model their T-Jackets and sweaters awarded them on the basis of their achievements in major sports.

Sheilah Blair is busy taking one of the tests which won her the DAR Award given to the outstanding senior citizen.
Chosen by her classmates and faculty, Sheilah Blair represented Tipton High School as the outstanding senior citizen to receive the DAR Award. She won the county and was entered in the state contest.

It was the honor of THS to select nine delegates and nine alternates to attend Boys' and Girls' State. Financially, Tri Kappa, the American Legion, and the American Legion Auxiliary made this possible. The week was spent at Indiana University learning how our federal, county, and city governments function. However, all was not work, and the delegates enjoyed several recreational activities. Many lasting memories and friendships were brought about by the Hoosier Girls' and Boys' State.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS OF T. H. S.

Outstanding students attending Girls' and Boys' State were: Sheilah Blair, Brenda Lankford, George Leininger, Susan Crouch, Rick Pearce, Jane Watson, Amos Patterson, and in front, Ronnie Captain. Jane Zaloudek was absent at the time the picture was taken.

ENTERTAINMENT IS A PART OF T. H. S.

The newly formed group, the Happy Teens, sings "Silver Bells" during the Christmas Fantasy.

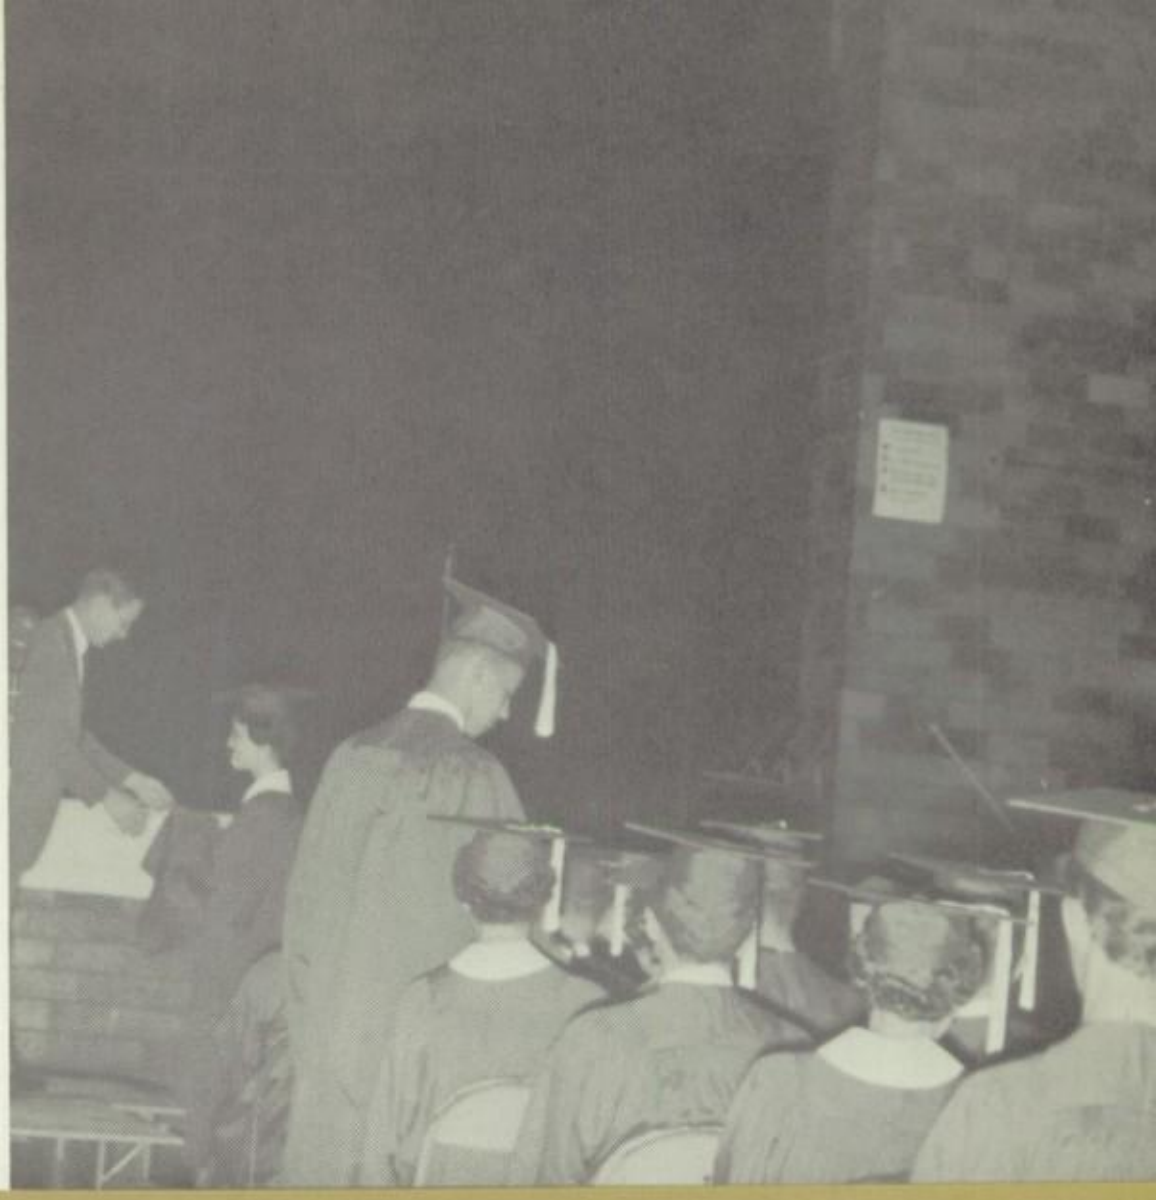
Under leadership of Mrs. Simmons and Mr. Good, the music department displayed their imaginative ability to entertain the student body of THS. The program began with a series of carols sung by the chorus. Later, Santa and his reindeer arrived with special entertainment. The scene then changed to the real meaning of Christmas with the Christmas story portrayed through carols and the reading of the Scripture.

Tipton students were privileged to have a traveling science teacher, Mr. E. G. Erbisch. He visited all the science and math classes and presented a special program for the Science Club.

Things started with a "Bang" as he ignited hydrogen during the general session before the entire student body. He demonstrated many other spectacular acts of a physical and chemical nature.

"What a charge this gives us!" say Mary Jo Walker and Sandy Conwell as electric current is passed through their bodies to light a neon tube.

Karen Painter and Jack Gossard receive the Good Citizenship awards from the American Legion representative, Joe Heaton.



The last day of school for the seniors found them dressed in their caps and gowns. Yes, this is a special day when the seniors are rewarded for their work throughout high school. Families and friends flocked to the THS gym to see presentations of awards to those outstanding in scholastic achievement, science, art, band, citizenship, home economics, and agriculture. Many scholarships were awarded to those pursuing further education in college. Awards Day is one of the highlights the seniors will long remember.

SENIOR DAY IS HONOR DAY

Bert Hodge, principal, announces valedictorian, Susan McGraw, of the class of 1960.

Bob Hutto, Phyllis Bergman, Carole Bringle, and Jack Gossard enjoy a royal dance with the honored king and queen, Jerry Dellinger and Jo Carroll McKinney.

PROM IS "SOUTH OF THE BORDER"

The 1960 Junior-Senior Prom was said, by many, to be one of the most colorful and uniquely designed.

The theme "South of the Border" was cleverly carried out with an array of bright colors. The sophomores who served were attractively dressed in South American costumes. Another interesting sight was "Rosa's Cantina," where additional refreshments were distributed.

The music played by the Varsitonians put everyone who attended in a mood of dancing and gaiety. In addition to the music the band provided entertainment during the intermission.

Later that evening, the court, chosen by the senior class, was presented to the guests by the junior president, Dave Landis. Those reigning over the evening's activities were the king and queen, Jerry Dellinger and Jo Carroll McKinney, and those on the court, Bob Hutto, Phyllis Bergman, Carole Bringle, and Jack Gossard.

After dancing for several remembered hours, the guests left to enjoy a movie entitled "Gidget" at the Diana Theater.

At three o'clock everyone was invited to a delicious breakfast prepared by the Juniors' parents in the Christian Church Basement.

Attired in their South American costumes, Beverly Thomas and Dan Shaw are busy serving guests at the 1960 Prom.

GRADUATION IS THE CLOSING CHAPTER FOR SENIORS

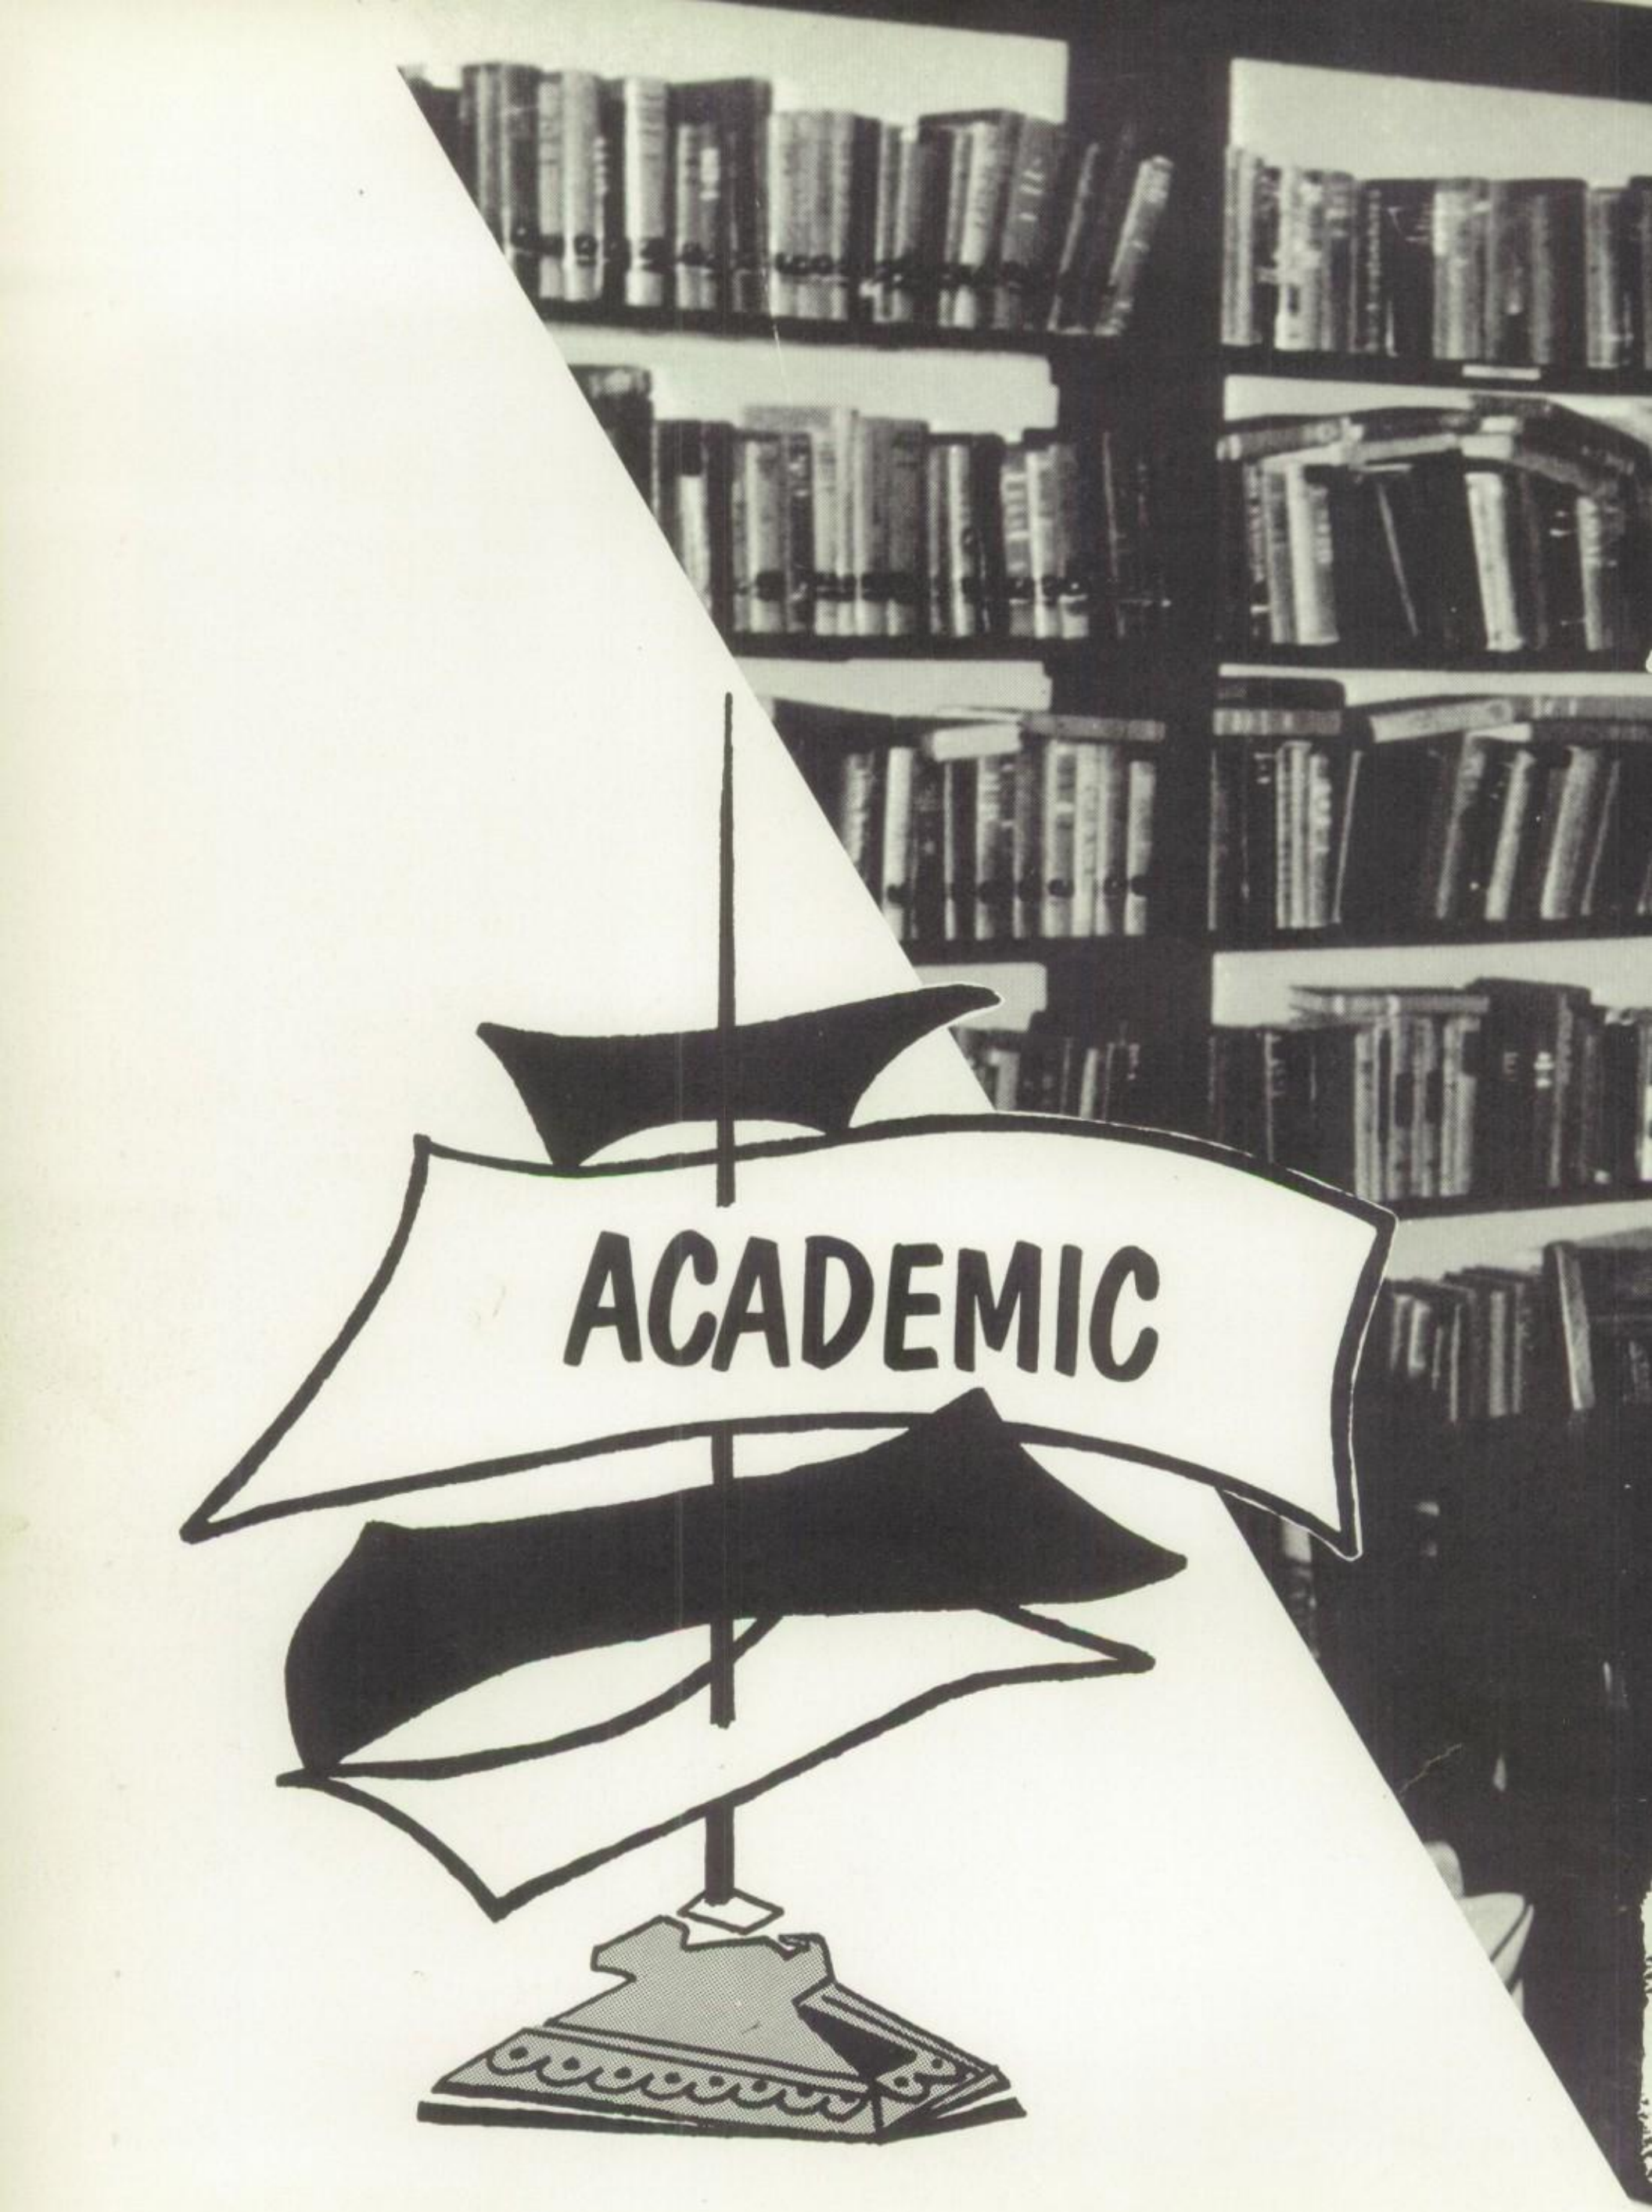
At last for some--too soon for many--graduation time comes. The Commencement for the Class of 1960 was held on May 27 in the high school gymnasium. The Reverend Norval Lyon, minister of the West Street Christian Church, offered the invocation and benediction. Music was provided by the high school band. "No Man is an Island" and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" were sung by the high school chorus. The address given by Dr. Maynard K. Hine was entitled "Our Broadening Responsibilities." After the address the diplomas were presented to members of the graduating class by Superintendent, C. B. Stemen.

Susie McGraw, graduate of 1960, carries her diploma proudly as valedictorian of her class.

Amos Patterson fastens Janet Campbell's collar as they try on their caps and gowns.

The Baccalaureate for the Class of 1960 was held at the Kemp Methodist Church on Sunday, May 22. The invocation and benediction were offered by Reverend Chester McCullough. Reverend Harold Davis then gave the scripture and prayer, which were followed by the sermon delivered by Reverend James Ratcliff.

Mrs. Georgia Webster sang "The Lord's Prayer" and the Teen Trio, composed of Susie McGraw, Connie Overdorf, and Linda Dickover, completed the services by singing "You'll Never Walk Alone."



ACADEMIC

60-61 INTRODUCED MANY

Mr. Wisehart, superintendent of Tipton schools, considers an administrative matter with his secretary, Beth Mundell.

"Remembering the old, anticipating the new," was already becoming a reality as the seniors metriculated for their final year at T.H.S. New administrators, new office buildings, and reassignments of other offices were some of the changes that made 1960-61 a historical year.

Mr. Charles Wisehart was named our superintendent of schools; Mr. Robert Jones returned to the Hoosier state to become our high school principal; and Mr. C. B. Stemen became our first business manager.

NEW FACES TO T. H. S.

Mr. Jones goes over the day's schedule with his secretary, Judy Hicks.

The old telephone office on West Jefferson Street was very handsomely remodeled and became the spacious offices of Mr. Wisehart, Mr. Stemen, and secretaries, Mrs. Eldon Allen and Mrs. Tom Mundell. From the principal's office, the deans moved downstairs to the former office of Mr. Stemen, and for the first time in the history of T.H.S., the annual staff had a home of its own, the room joining that of the deans.

Though in a small way, nevertheless, the Class of '61 was a part of seeing "the new" become a reality.

Mr. Miller, Dean of Boys, counsels senior Steve Coverdale in class scheduling.

Evelyn Leininger stops by the Dean of Girls' office to talk with Mrs. Forney.

SCIENCE AND MATH STUDIES RANGE

"Poof! There goes perspiration!" says Vicki Barker and Leanna Hart, chemistry students.

Since the world is becoming very scientifically-minded, more students at T.H.S. are taking physics and chemistry than ever before. Lab experiments are important in the science courses, but the lack of facilities forces students to work in groups. In biology dissections are part of the requirement and almost everyone enjoys them, although, there may be a few pale faces.

Cathi Mitchell looking rather pale, dissects a frog in Mr. Taylor's biology class.

J. LAUREN NADEN A.B., Taylor University; University of Michigan M.A.; Mathematics, Junior Class, Hi-Y.

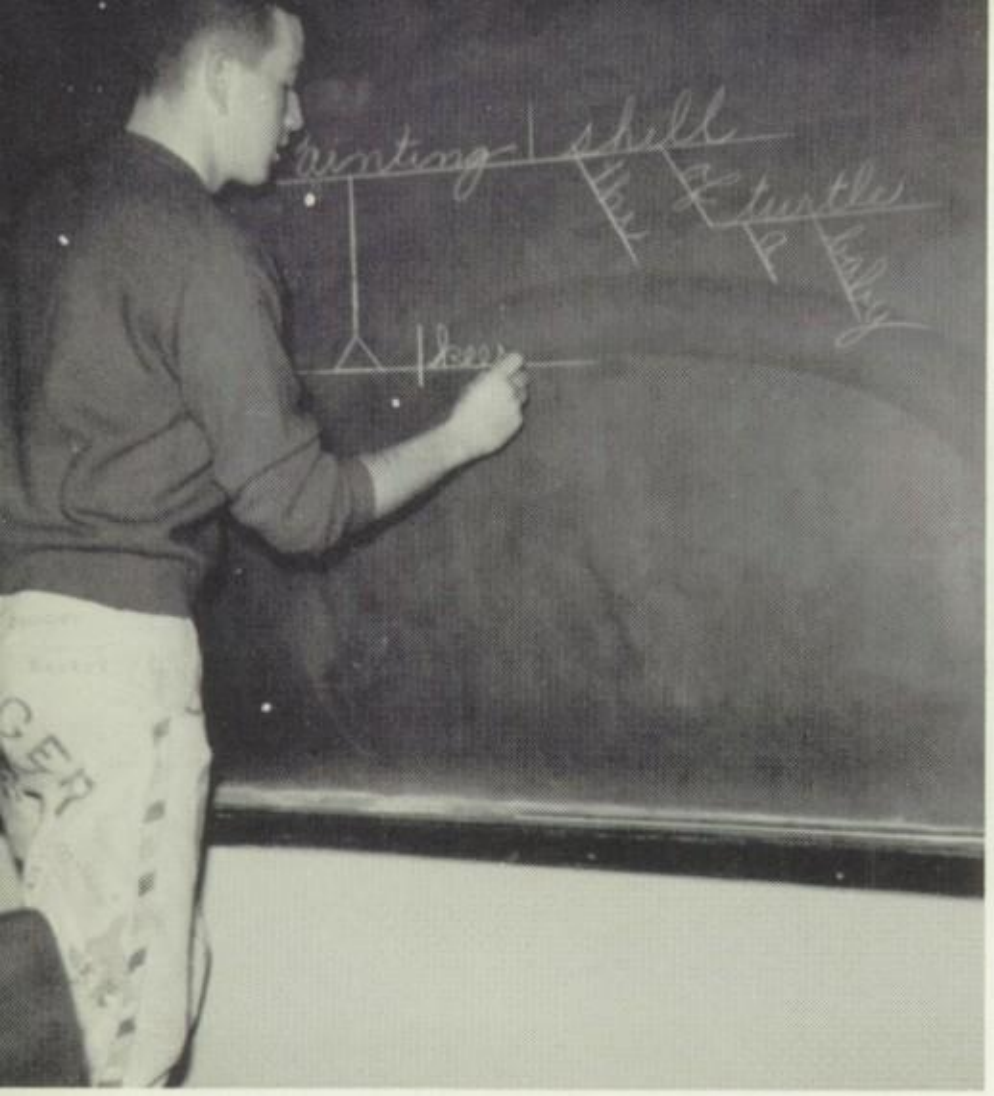
With the launching of rockets and the building of satellites, the field of mathematics has become very important. More students than ever before at T.H.S. are taking advanced courses in math. Only one year is required, but second, third, and fourth year studies are offered as electives.

Our math department includes general math and first-year algebra for freshmen, plane geometry for sophomores, third year algebra and trigonometry for juniors, and fourth year algebra and solid geometry for seniors.

A frequent question of the math students is, "Do you consider the angles when evaluating the figures?" . . . "Yeah!"

Mr. Naden explains an equation to Ronnie Captain in fourth year algebra class.

If only plane geometry could be made plain.



Dave Landis diagrams a sentence for senior English class.

WE GROW INTELLECTUALLY

JEANNETTE APPLE, A.B., Central Normal College; Taylor University; Ball State Teachers College; Librarian.

PAUL WALKER, B.S., Indiana State Teachers College; Speech, English, Speech Club, Dramatic Club.

The first semester in all English classes includes a study of grammar and word usage, while the second semester is a study in literature.

Since all students need a basic knowledge of our own language and customs no matter what they do, three years of English are required of all students and a fourth year is offered to those taking a college preparatory course.

All students find the library very helpful in preparing assignments, especially those taking English. Whenever book report or research paper time rolls around, the library is always full of pupils selecting materials for their work. In their spare time many students are found here reading newspapers and current magazines.

THROUGH LIBERAL ARTS

The Spanish classes discuss the day's lesson and grammar points which would be helpful for the next assignment. Spanish games and songs are played and sung to help the students learn the customs and the language of Spain.

"Salute, amici!" "Veni, vidi vici!" is a well-known phrase to all second year Latin students. This quotation comes from Caesar. They also study the tasks of Hercules and the wanderings of Ulysses.

Every Monday a member of the class gives a special report on early Roman history. Their vocabulary is increased by learning four new English words a day and their Latin derivatives.

This year a new touch was added to our Speech department--Mr. Walker. On his first day he greeted the speech students with an impromptu speech, and these speeches seem to be his specialty because quite a few have been given. Don't be alarmed to find the speech students walking down the halls, trying to talk with pencils in their mouths. This will improve their speaking voice.

Ron Captain displays his speaking ability as he delivers an impromptu speech before the speech class.

A typical office practice class finds Barbara McNew, Phyllis Tragesser, Connie Russell, and Pearl Long practicing efficiency.

PATRICIA ANN MOORE, B.S., Indiana University; Butler University; Commerce, School Treasurer.

COMMERCIAL COURSES BENEFIT THE BUSINESS WORLD

Mrs. Moore, high school typing teacher, looks on as students "peck."

The commerce department at T.H.S. is always humming with activity. Those people who wish to enter that phase of the business world have many interesting subjects to choose from, such as bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, office practice, business English and business law.

Speed and accuracy play an important part in typing and shorthand. Bookkeeping gives students an introduction into the field of accounting and a basic knowledge of how to keep books. Business English and business law show students how good English and a knowledge of law are important in the business world.

Mock Election Day found T.H.S. students standing on their democratic rights to elect our next President.

Linda Osborne points out Yugoslavia to the rest of her Geography Class.

"Who will be our next president?" was the topic of much conversation at T.H.S. before the election. Government and economics classes, as well as history and English classes, discussed politics and the attributes of the political candidates weeks before the general election. The law requires that all students must have five hours of election study in an election year. The Monday before election day all students of T.H.S. voted in a mock election, supervised by students of the government and economics classes. Richard Nixon was chosen president in our election and almost all other county and state officials elected were Republican also.

Required of all students at T.H.S. are a semester of geography, a year of U.S. history, and a semester of government and economics. A year of world history is offered to students as an elective.

T. H. S. BAND

FINE ARTS AT T. H. S. OFFER A

To culminate summer activities, the band played at an ice cream social sponsored by band parents. At the beginning of school, the band, in addition to the new twirling section, began to get ready for the pre-game and half time football shows they were to present. Roseanna Speer and Vicki Fuller served as head drum majorette and twirling captain respectively.

A new group was organized within the band--the fife and bottle band. It is composed of two flutes and eight people playing bottles filled to various degrees with water. They played a special number at the spring concert held in May.

Mrs. Webster's art classes are divided into three sections, beginning art, intermediate art and advanced art. In these classes students learn the fundamentals of drawing and designing, painting and sketching, and have special projects such as oil painting and charcoal sketching.

The chorus class, under the direction of Mrs. Darle Lou Simmons, has been participating in many extra activities this year. Among them were the trips taken to see the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra and stage production of MUSIC MAN.

Tipton High School's Twirling Ten are V. Fuller, R. Bowers, S. Watkins, M. Pickett, V. Voss, A. Bowers, M. Sweet, N. Haines, L. Hancock, and Head Majorette, R. Speer.

LARRY CAIN, B.S. & M.S., Purdue University; Industrial Arts, Sophomore Class.

The Industrial Arts Department offers the students of Tipton High School instruction in those areas of skill training and related information which closely parallels the industrial development of the country. The courses provide the opportunity to develop an appreciation for craftsmanship, creativity, consumer knowledge, and craft and hobby interests. The courses are based upon the needs of the students and the current opportunities of the community in general.

FUTURE HOMES AND BUSINESSES

Vocational Agriculture is a four year program at T.H.S. Approximately 50 boys are enrolled. The plan of study includes animal husbandry, soils and crops, farm management, farm bookkeeping and farm taxes.

Talk! Talk! Talk! Yes, students do a lot of talking in their home economics classes, but they are not telling each other the latest gossip. They have group discussions in which they learn about achieving desirable personal and social development, caring for the sick, and home management.

Everyone in school can enjoy one part of home economics. You guessed it! The aroma that comes from the home economics kitchens. The girls are preparing appetizing meals.

WE LEARN

Mr. Barr explains the mechanical insides of the driver's education car to future roadrunners.

T.H.S. driver's education classes are full again this year. The students enjoy driving but are still somewhat apprehensive when they get under the wheel. In this class they learn the parts of a car, its operation, and the responsibilities that await every new driver.

"Boy, it takes a lot of guts," say students of Mr. Myer's health class.

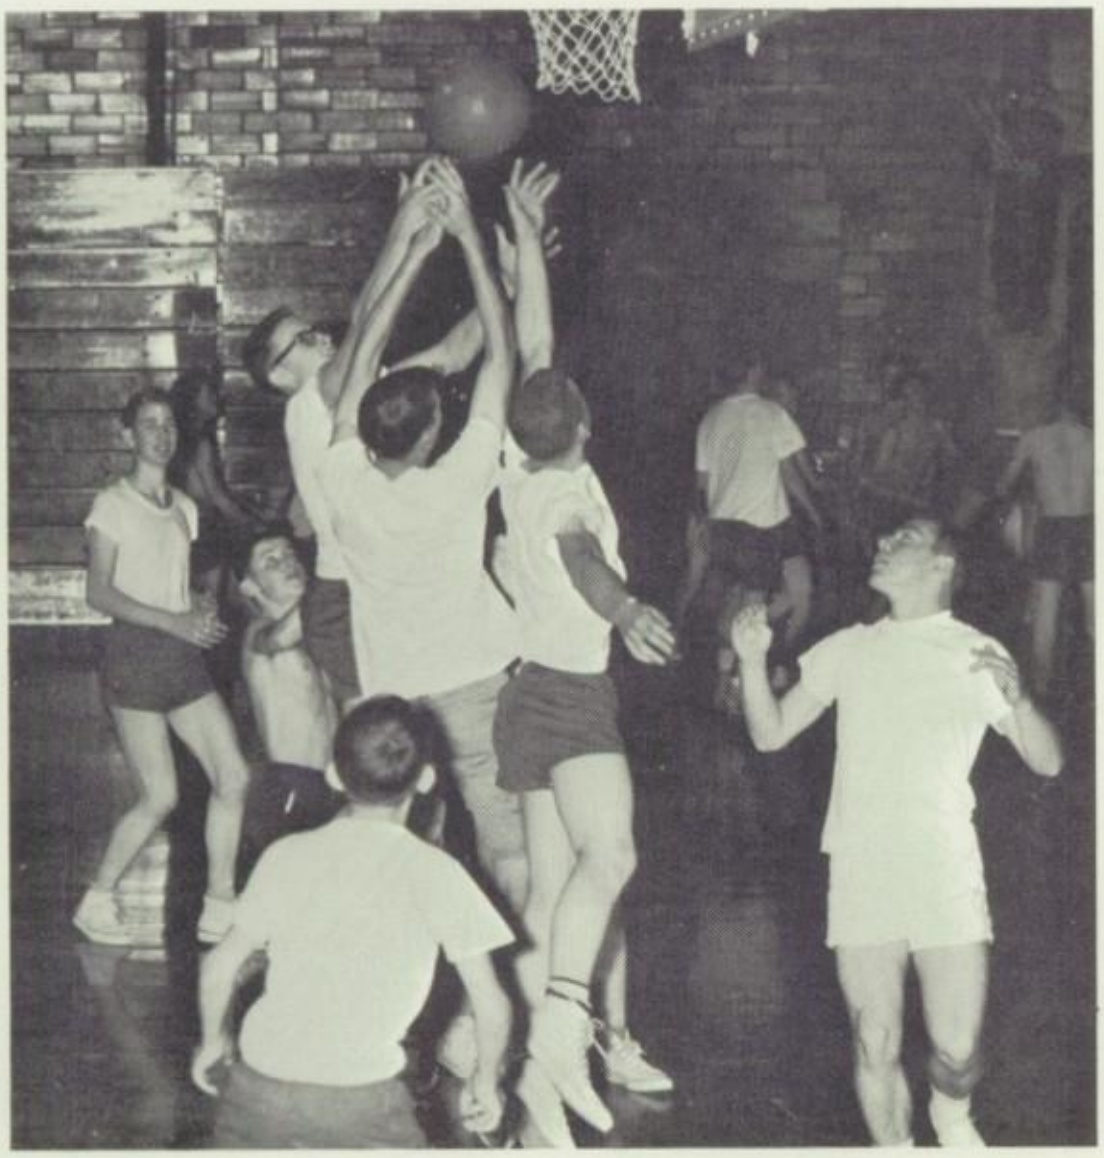
THROUGH PRACTICE



Look at those cavemen go!

Besides growing mentally, the students in the freshman and sophomore classes develop physically too. The girls participate in many different types of games, including deck tennis, kickball, and badminton. The activities in the boys' classes are of a more strenuous nature, such as calisthenics and basketball.

Along with the exercises and games in the physical education classes, the freshmen learn about the care of the body in their health classes. Now they understand what the seniors mean when they say, "Oh, my aching gluteus maximus!"

The Tipton High Student Council has participated in many activities this year. The members cooperated with the school officials in planning the Homecoming parade and program. They also sponsored the annual dance held after the game.

This year 20 members attended the District Student Council Convention at Anderson.

They were fortunate to have their President, Amos Patterson, lead a discussion group. At this convention they discussed many different ways of improving the council.

The purpose of the council is to help govern the student body and to propose new rules and regulations for the good of the school.

Deb Dearth, Jim Long, Becky Bringle, Judy Gibbens, and Emily Watson prepare to leave for the District Student Council Convention at Anderson.

HI-Y MEMBERS UPHOLD CHRISTIAN IDEALS

Hi-Y is a boys' organization endorsed by the Y.M.C.A. The opening of their meetings is taken from a ritual. After these devotions are given by the club chaplain, they proceed to discuss topics which are of importance and interest to the members.

This year the Hi-Y was placed in charge of the Thanksgiving program, conducted on the afternoon before vacation. Bob Strong was Master of Ceremonies for the convocation.

The program contained many Thanksgiving songs sung by the chorus and a excellent message delivered by Reverend Ratcliff of the Kemp Methodist Church.

HIGH IDEALS ARE STRESSED BY HONOR SOCIETY

Members of Honor Society informally discuss dating manners at an evening meeting.

Character, scholarship, leadership, and service--these are the qualities necessary for membership in the National Honor Society. In the spring ten percent of the junior class is initiated, and the following fall the remaining members in the top fifteen percent of the class are initiated.

This year the Honor Society put up the traditional Christmas tree in the large study hall, hoping to spread a bit of Christmas cheer. They also sponsored the annual pen-point party.

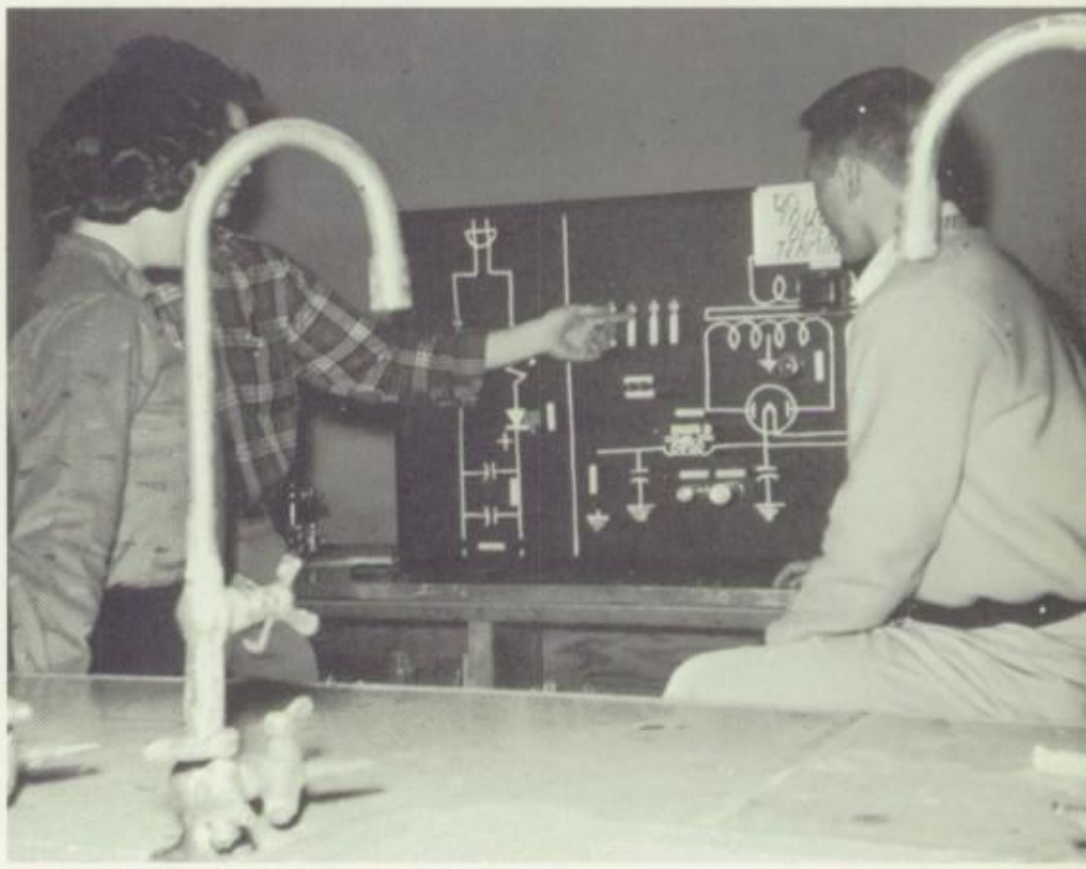
Being selected for membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed on students at T.H.S.

MEMBERS PREPARE FOR SCIENCE FAIR

This year the Science Club required each member to work on a project in some field of science. Members worked individually or in pairs.

In the spring a school science fair was held to exhibit and judge these projects. The best entries were sent to the Regional Science Fair at Lafayette. The club attended as a group in order to get some ideas for their next years projects.

Science club members are ever striving to enlarge their understandings of the vast areas in today's scientific world.



"It may be complicated, but it's fascinating," say Science Club members, Deb Dearth, John Browning, and Rick Pearce.

Mr. Byer, a representative from the American Yearbook Company, discusses with the members of the Annual Staff ways of making a successful annual.

"Let's meet that deadline" is a familiar phrase to the members of the Annual Staff. For the first time in the history of T.H.S. the Tiptonian was under the contract of the American Yearbook Company. This meant that they must meet their deadlines if they expected to get the yearbook before the close of school.

The staff worked industriously every third period in the rooms adjoining the office of the Deans, who often found their desks piled high with pictures and 3-R forms. The boosting of their sales to six hundred copies and more advertising helped them to publish a bigger and better book.

Editors of the newspaper discuss advertising plans with Mr. Maney, editor of the Tipton Tribune.

This has been a year of change for the school newspaper--a new name, a new staff, and a new sponsor. For the first time in many years, T.H.S. had a printed paper instead of the usual mimeographed one.

With the help of Mr. Maney, editor of the Tipton Tribune, the staff published a better, more interesting, and more informative newspaper.

CHARACTER, SPORTSMANSHIP AND HEALTH

A Monday night G.A.A. business meeting finds these girls rather unattentive.

G.A.A. has many sports that the girls participate in every year. Such sports as baseball, bowling, volleyball, volley ring, basketball, and kick ball are enjoyed the most. Points are earned throughout the year and awards, such as sweaters, letters, and placques, are given to the girls who have earned a required amount of points.

Besides sports, other activities which dotted this year's calendar were Freshmen initiation, T-Men's party, Senior Banquet, Pot Luck Suppers, and the main event of the year, the "sleep out," which is held in the gym.

ARE STRESSED BY G. A. A. AND T-MEN

The T-Men organization is made up of over forty boys who have received a varsity letter in a major sport.

In early October the club took a field trip to Chicago, where they saw a game between the Chicago Bears and the Los Angeles Rams. They sponsored two dances this year, along with their annual chili supper in March.

Ron Kersten leaves for the T-Men's trip to Chicago.

EFFORTS OF PEP CLUB MEMBERS

Pep Club has in the last four years acquired more members than any other organization. The goal of Pep Club is to promote good spirit in all athletic events by sponsoring pep buses to out-of-town games, putting up eye-catching posters, presenting comical and enthusiastic skits at the pep sessions, and decorating the halls and the town during homecoming and the sectional.

Members of the yell block are taken from the Pep Club. This year, in addition to the usual girls' cheering block, a boys' block was organized. About a hundred boys attended the last few games, and both blocks received much praise at the sectional for their outstanding appearance and their enthusiastic spirit.

The "Mafia" hasn't invaded--it's just T.H.S. seniors, Ray Bear, Tom Collins, Larry Ross, Mike Robinson, and Amos Patterson giving a skit at the pep session before the Noblesville game.

"What's a party without a punch bowl," say Linda Zimmerman and Tonita Russell.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization formed to further home economics principles. Their activities this year were entering a float in the Homecoming Parade, attending the Fall District Meeting, and having several pot-luck suppers.

As a money-making project, the girls held a candy sale. Part of the profit from this sale was contributed to the Heart Fund.

IN F. F. A. BOYS REALIZE THEIR FARMING AMBITION

Future Farmers of America is a national intracurricular activity of vocational agriculture. It is an organization for boys in the ag. classes. The activities of the Tipton chapter, which has 35 members, include participation in local agriculture programs and contests.

The main event was an annual two-day trip, which this year was taken in the spring. This trip was preceded by numerous projects which helped finance this undertaking.

June Thompson, Sandy Conwell, Susie Crouch, Pam Hogue, and Judy Green rehearse for the Drama Club play, "Did You Say Mink."

The Dramatic Club is a new organization at Tipton High, formed to help students obtain membership in the National Thespians Society. This club is open to any high school student who has an interest in drama.

During the year an all girls' play entitled "Did You Say Mink," was presented before various civic organizations in town. An all boys' group also entertained with several comical impersonations.

F.T.A. is an organization which was started to create interest in one of the most important professions--teaching.

One of the main projects of F.T A. members this year has been the visiting of local grade schools. They have gone to the various classrooms and observed different teaching methods.

Members have also attended various state and district meetings to compare their ideas with other F.T.A. clubs and to keep the club up-to-date on the latest teaching developments.

Education is most important to the survival of our culture, and F.T.A. is doing its best to promote better education.

High school girls interested in nursing comprise the membership of Future Nurses.

This year a registered nurse gave a talk on nursing and its requirements. At Christmas the girls participated in a service project at the County Home, and they had several interesting films on nursing.

To culminate the year's activities, they took a field trip to view first-hand, the rewards of a nursing career.

Sunshine Society is an organization at THS formed to bring sunshine and cheer to the lives of others. Their main project this year was a Christmas party for the under-privileged children in grades one through four. There were games, refreshments, and Santa Claus came with gifts for everyone.

During the half of two home basketball games members passed a blanket collecting money for the Riley Fund.

To earn money for the functioning of their local club, Sunshine girls sold candy in the hall and sponsored an after game dance.

HILL AND DALERS MAKE GOOD

Robert Taylor, our new Cross Country coach, has led the Devil harriers through a very fine season, placing third in the conference. This year we had our first home meet which was run on our golf course against Noblesville and Windfall. The Devils came through victorious with a perfect score of 15, while Noblesville ended with 48, and Windfall received 85.

Another exciting meet was against Kokomo and Wabash, where the mighty blue and white triumphed with a score of 38, while Kokomo came in second with 41, and Wabash finished with 45.

At the Shortridge Invitational, Joe Roe received a plaque for being one of the top ten finishers in our division.

We are truly proud of the outstanding records accomplished by our Cross Country team this year.

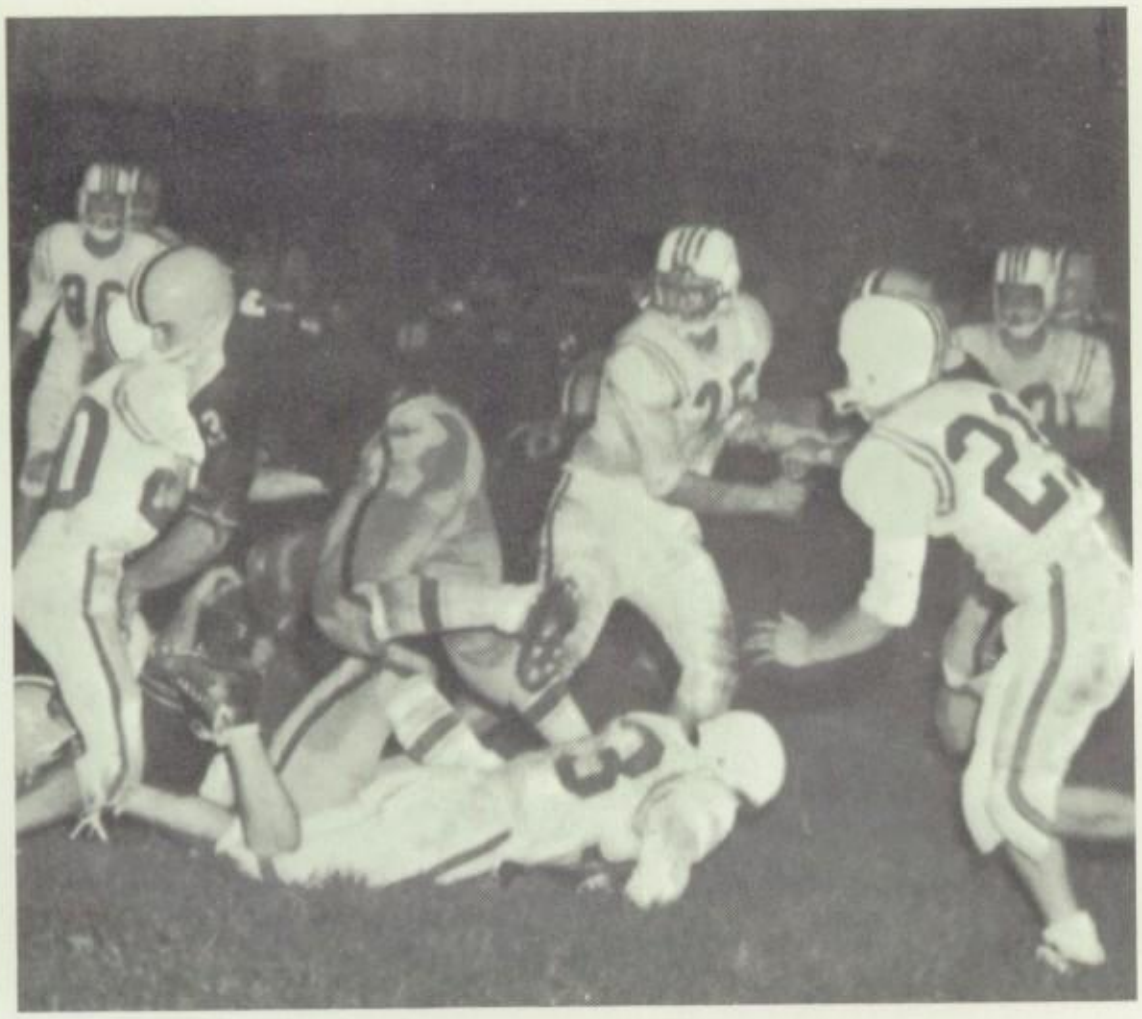
THE DEVIL GRIDIRON PULLED

Senior football players and assistant coaches look on as Coach Weger explains an important play.

Head coach Jake Weger and his assistants, Richard Barr and Clayton Myers, enjoyed a very fine season during the Devils' 1960 football campaign. The senior players, leading the team with skill and experience, combined with some brilliant underclassmen, provided many thrill-packed games. The Devils emerged with a commendable 5-3-1 record.

Misfortune and injuries took their toll in conference play for the Devils this year, having tied Elwood 6-6, losing to Alexandria 13-12, and to Peru by one touchdown. However, the Satans set a Tipton High School record by scoring 60 points in the game against Hartford City.



There's plenty of action here. It looks as though the Noblesville Millers won't gain much yardage this time.

SENIOR FOOTBALL

These ten seniors led our mighty Devils through a very fine and exciting season, against very stiff competition, by winning five games, tying one, and losing only three. At the CIC banquet, honoring all senior football players in the conference, Larry Ross, an outstanding guard on the Devil team, was chosen for the all-conference team, while Rick Pearce, a great halfback, was picked for the second team. Ron Captain and Max Tilley were selected for the third team with Bob Murphy receiving honorable mention. All of these seniors need to be congratulated for their outstanding playing.

COACHES AND MANAGERS AIDED

Looking over strategic plays are head coach John "Jake" Weger and his assistants Richard Barr and Clayton Myers.

This was Coach Weger's twelfth successful year at T.H.S. as head football coach. He did a marvelous job this year. His assistants, Clayton Myers and Richard Barr, have helped considerably to make the 1960 season a truly great one.

The football managers did a fine job of keeping the football field in good condition and caring for the equipment. A common scene each evening was the team riding to practice in the rickety old school bus, followed by the managers in Paul W.'s old beat-up Chevy.

DESIRE AND DETERMINATION TELL THE

Coach Richard Barr, in his first season as mentor of a scrappy, but mostly inexperienced Blue Devil team, worked very hard with the boys to have a successful season. Believing that aggressiveness wins ball games, Barr was aided in initiating his new program by assistant coach Clayton Meyers and a willing, determined basketball squad.

Four seniors completed the season; Ron Captain, a four-letter-forward and frequently the Devil's scorer; scrappy Tom Phifer--the opponents knew when he was in the game--; Dave Landis, tremendously improved letterman, and smooth under the basket; and fastest-on-the-court Rick Pearce, experienced guard. Several juniors and sophomores who gained experience and will be ready for action next season completed the roster.

YELL BLOCK

The T.H.S. cheerblock, composed of 110 girls, is one which has received many compliments and praises since its organization. The block meets every Thursday after school in an effort to be letter perfect at every game.

This year the cheerblock went to four away games, the Clinton Central Holiday Tourney, and the sectionals, backing their Devils with unmatched spirit.

Some of the many sharp performances of these girls are spelling out names of opposing teams, doing hand motions to yells and songs, and doing the checkerboard. Under the leadership of Susie Crouch, Pep Club President, and Mrs. Tunmer the cheerblock has had a very successful season.

A little snow does not stop Devil track practice.

TO RETAIN THE C. I. C. CROWN

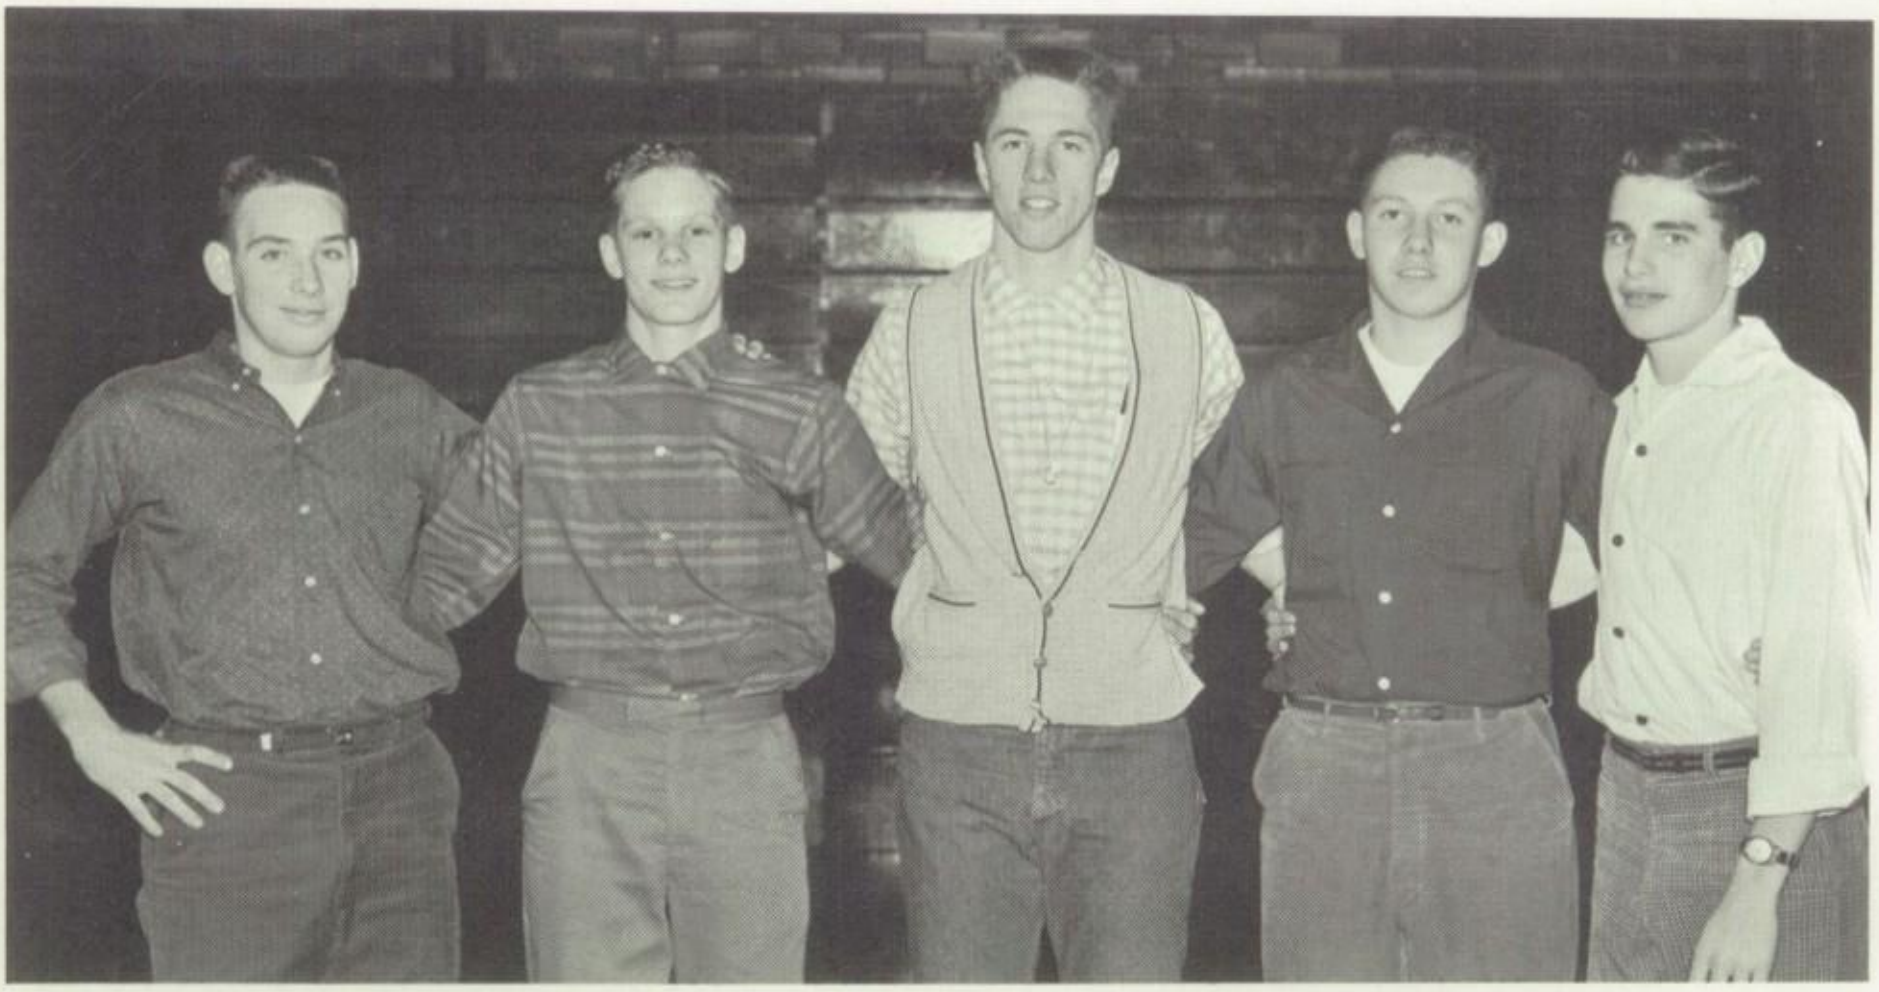
The mile relay team composed of Jim Rice, Jim Garmon, Bill Morrisett, Ron Captain, Don Lankford, and Dan Shaw are looking forward to helping win the C.I.C. again.

Dan Shaw looks as if he's having no trouble easing over those high hurdles.

Ed Ripberger, a promising distance runner, warms up in preparation for the Hoosier Relays.

Charles Richards, Jim Rice, Jim Garmon, Ed Ripberger, Joe Roe, Bill Coe, Jim Altherr, Mike Haley make up the two-mile relay team which will run for Tipton this year.

GOLF AND TENNIS LETTERMEN STRIVE FOR



GOLF TEAM
T. Collins, K. Kinder, S. Coverdale, W. Mundell, B. Wisehart.

Willie Mundell tees off while preparing for the Devil's next encounter.

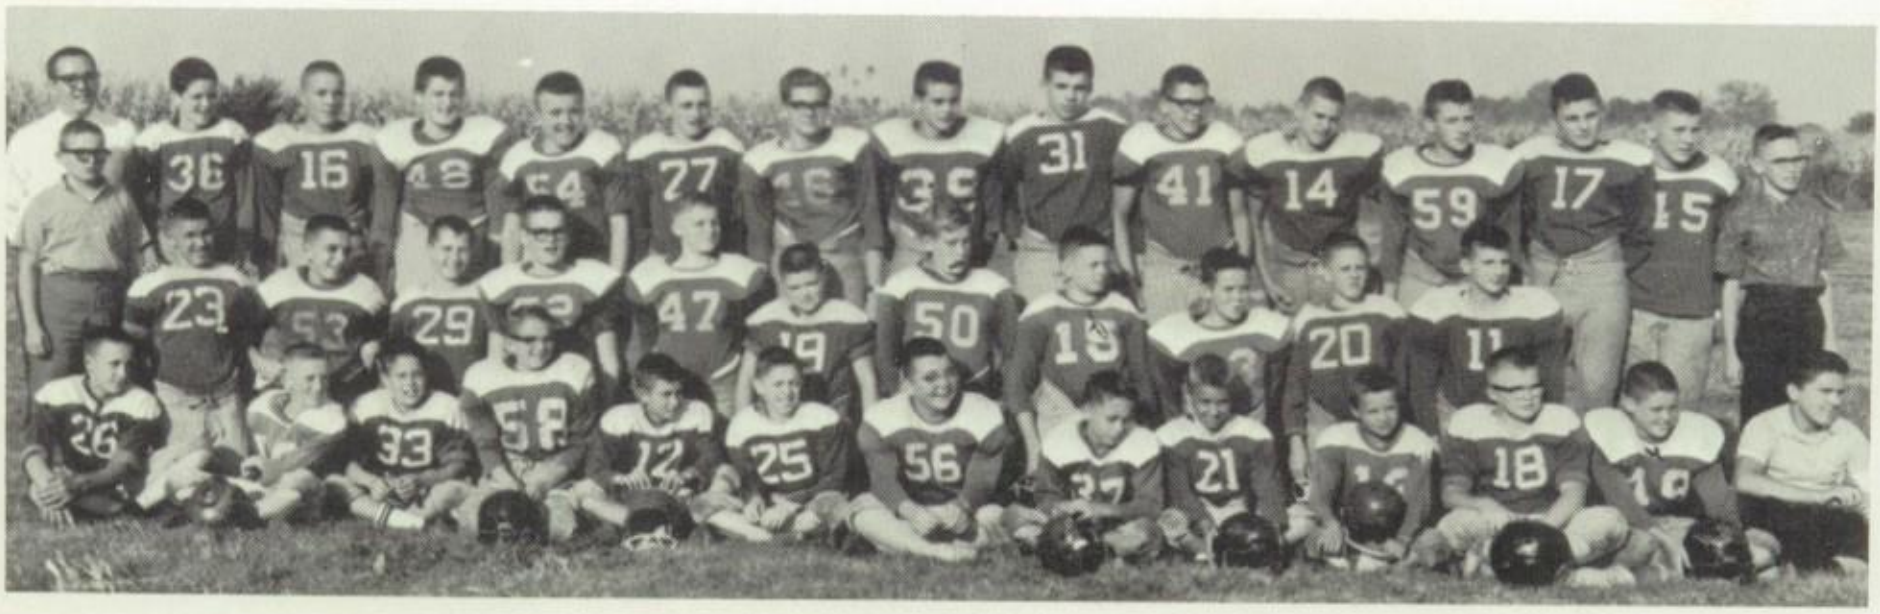
PERFECTION DURING THIS YEAR'S SEASON

Senior, George Leininger, is serving in a doubles tournament with his partner, Ron Kersten, to determine their placement on the team.

Bob Murphy prepares to slam one back in preparation for his first meet.

TENNIS TEAM
FIRST ROW: J. Wright, B. Murphy, J. Crawford, SECOND ROW: R. Kersten, C. Rose, G. Leininger.

JUNIOR HIGH SPORTSMEN WORK HARD FOR



JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL TEAM

Junior High School was very successful in sports this year with a 3-3 record in football and an 11-6 record in basketball.

During the football season Tipton Junior High beat Elwood 7-0, Westfield 7-0, and Sheridan 14-7 while bowing to Jackson Central, Frankfort, and Eastern.

In basketball the Devils were runners-up in the county tourney, defeated by Hobbs in the last few seconds of play.

The yell leaders proudly accepted the trophy for the yell block while Donnie Curnutt received one of the five all-star trophies.

Mr. Clossin, junior high coach, briefs the team on plays for their next challenge.

FUTURE YEARS IN HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL TEAM

This year was Mr. Clossin's fourth year as junior high coach. He has had very successful teams for the last two years and is highly admired for his fairness in letting everyone have an equal chance to participate in sports. Through the intramural program he sponsors every year, Mr. Clossin is preparing boys for future years and is also giving them experience and practice in playing in competitive sports.

This year's junior high yell leaders are Margo Zaloudek, Becky Morris, Julie Foster, and, in front, Janice Collins.

STUDENTS

Counting proceeds of the annual magazine sales are Senior class officers: Rick Pearce, Treas.; Jane Watson, Sec.; Steve Coverdale, Pres.; Emily Watson, Vice Pres.

ATTENDING CLASSES,

There are some things about our senior year that we will never forget--the rushing in the halls to get to class and still finding time to talk to our friends, the steadies lingering in the halls to talk until seconds before the bell, and the slow walks back to class after a pep session or program in the gym. Then there are the old familiar spots, as behind the coatracks, at the drinking fountain, or by the mail box outside the school doors, where you are likely to meet anyone.

We worked hard this year to make money for our senior trip, announcements, and namecards. Almost everyone in town heard the knocking of a senior at their door around magazine sales time. Our work was mingled with the fun of parties, dances, and ballgames. Who could forget the Homecoming dance with lovely Judy Green reigning over the festivities or any after game dance with the trip to Briggs afterwards.

In the future, as returning alumni, we will always remember Tipton High School as the old brick building on the corner of Main and North. The crowded halls and classrooms that we all loved so well will always be outstanding in our memories.

FOR PREPARING US

Tipton High seniors await inspection as they form the "lineup."

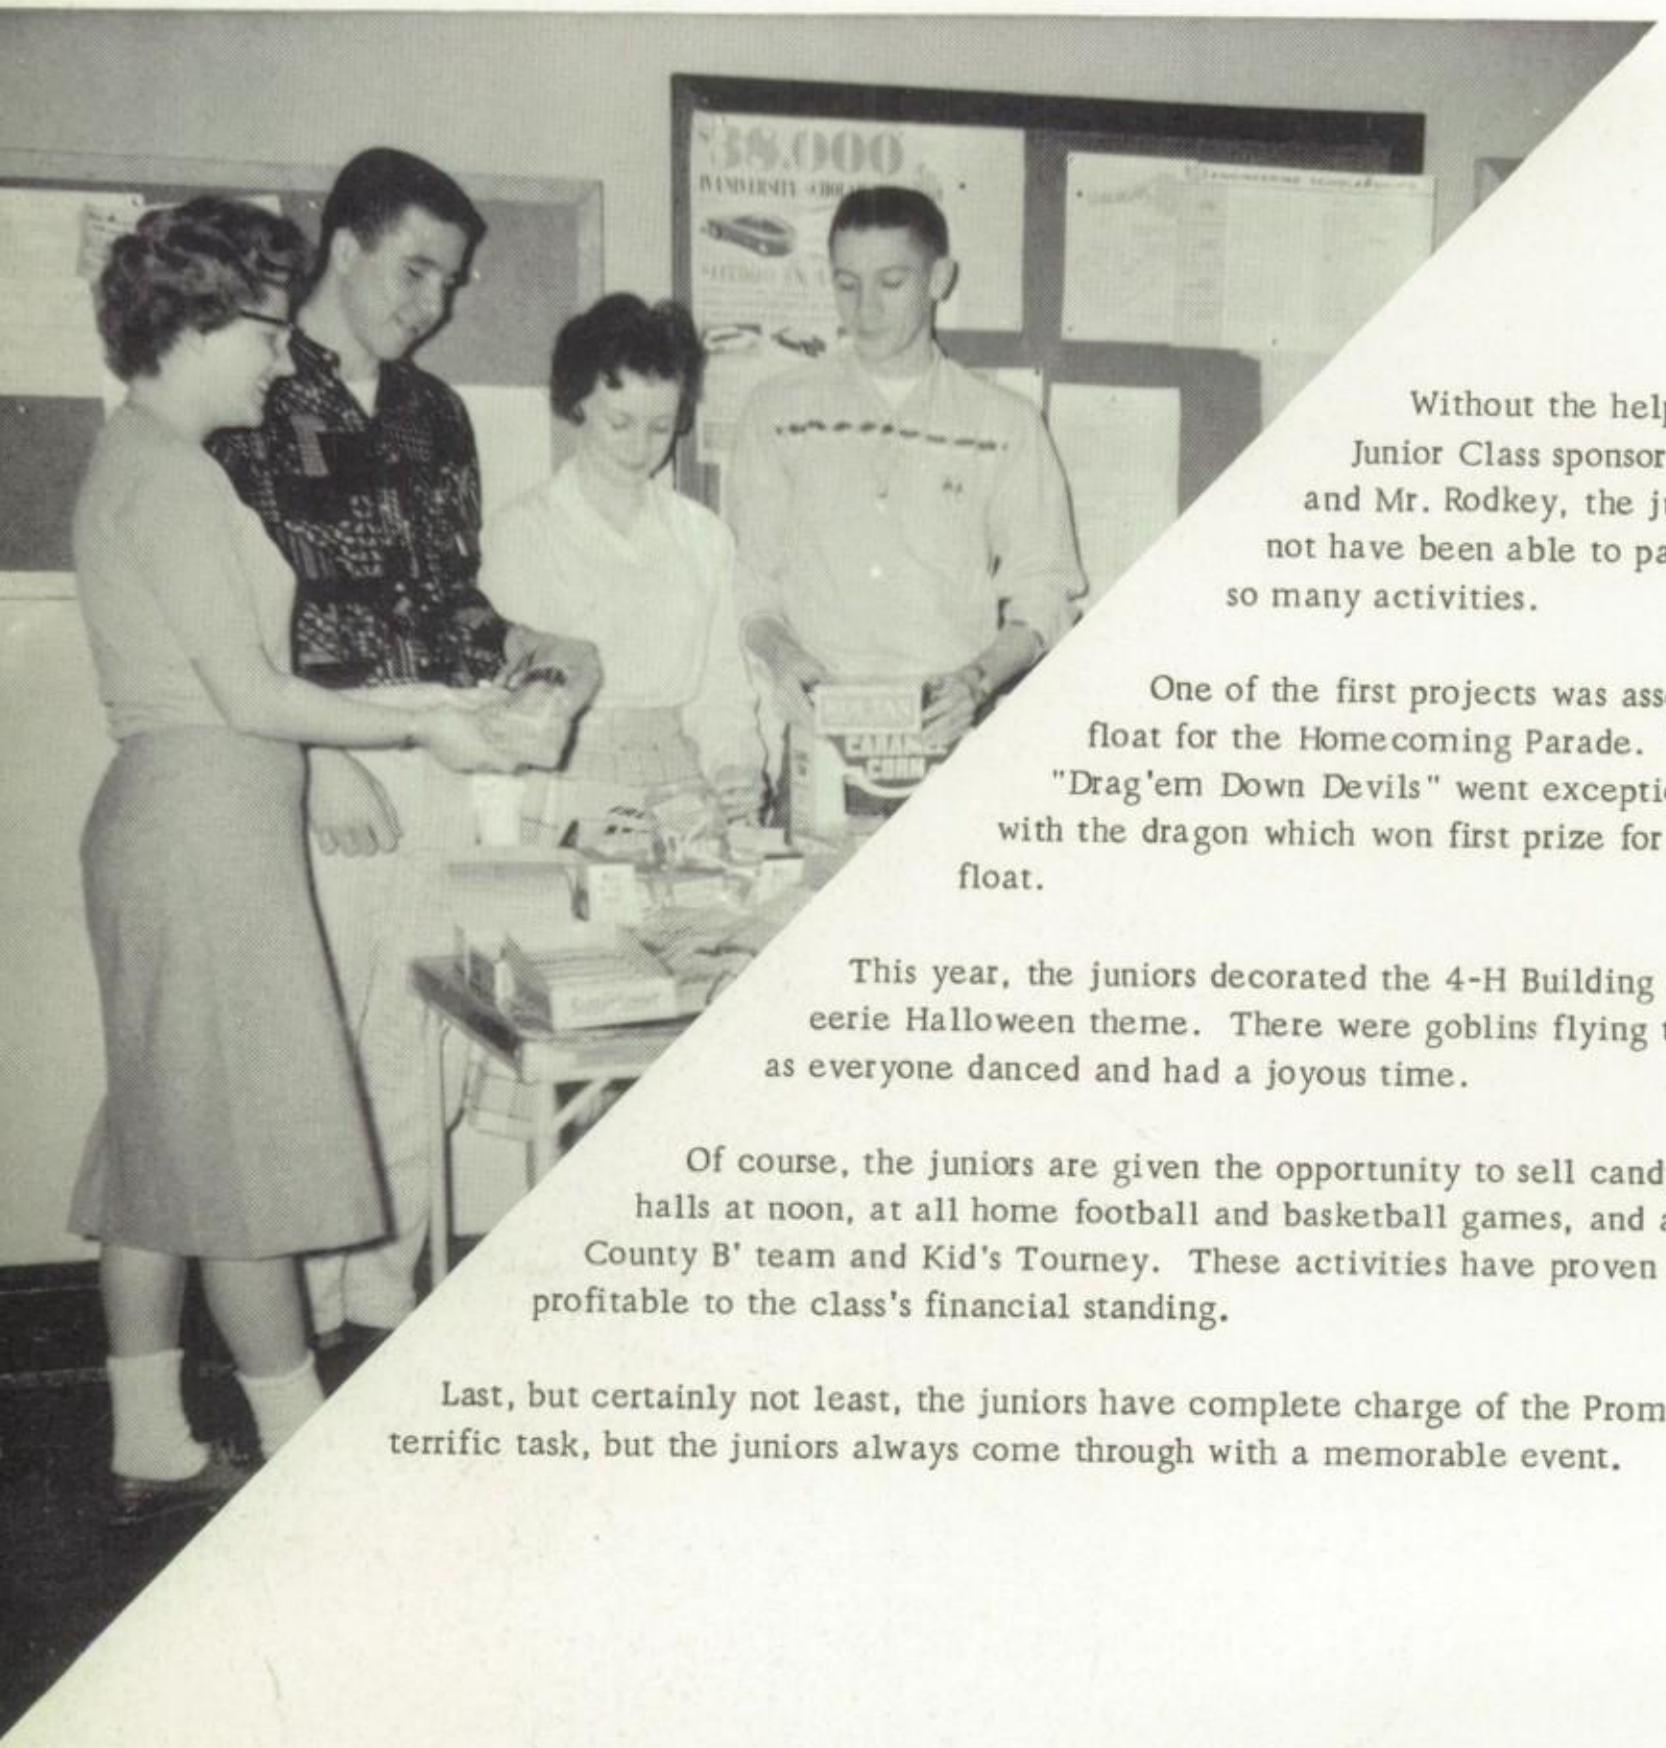
Senior Tom Collins takes time between classes to talk to his favorite date, Rosie Speer.

Larry Ross refreshes after a rough six weeks exam.

TO MEET THE FUTURE

JUNIORS WORK HARD

The Junior class officers, Mike Haley, Pres.; Jim Garmon, Vice-Pres.; Betty Biltz, Sec.; and Vicki Barker, Treas.; seem to be eating up the profits.



Without the help of the two Junior Class sponsors, Mr. Naden and Mr. Rodkey, the juniors would not have been able to participate in so many activities.

One of the first projects was assembling a float for the Homecoming Parade. The theme "Drag'em Down Devils" went exceptionally well with the dragon which won first prize for the best float.

This year, the juniors decorated the 4-H Building with an eerie Halloween theme. There were goblins flying that night as everyone danced and had a joyous time.

Of course, the juniors are given the opportunity to sell candy in the halls at noon, at all home football and basketball games, and at the County B' team and Kid's Tourney. These activities have proven very profitable to the class's financial standing.

Last, but certainly not least, the juniors have complete charge of the Prom. It is a terrific task, but the juniors always come through with a memorable event.

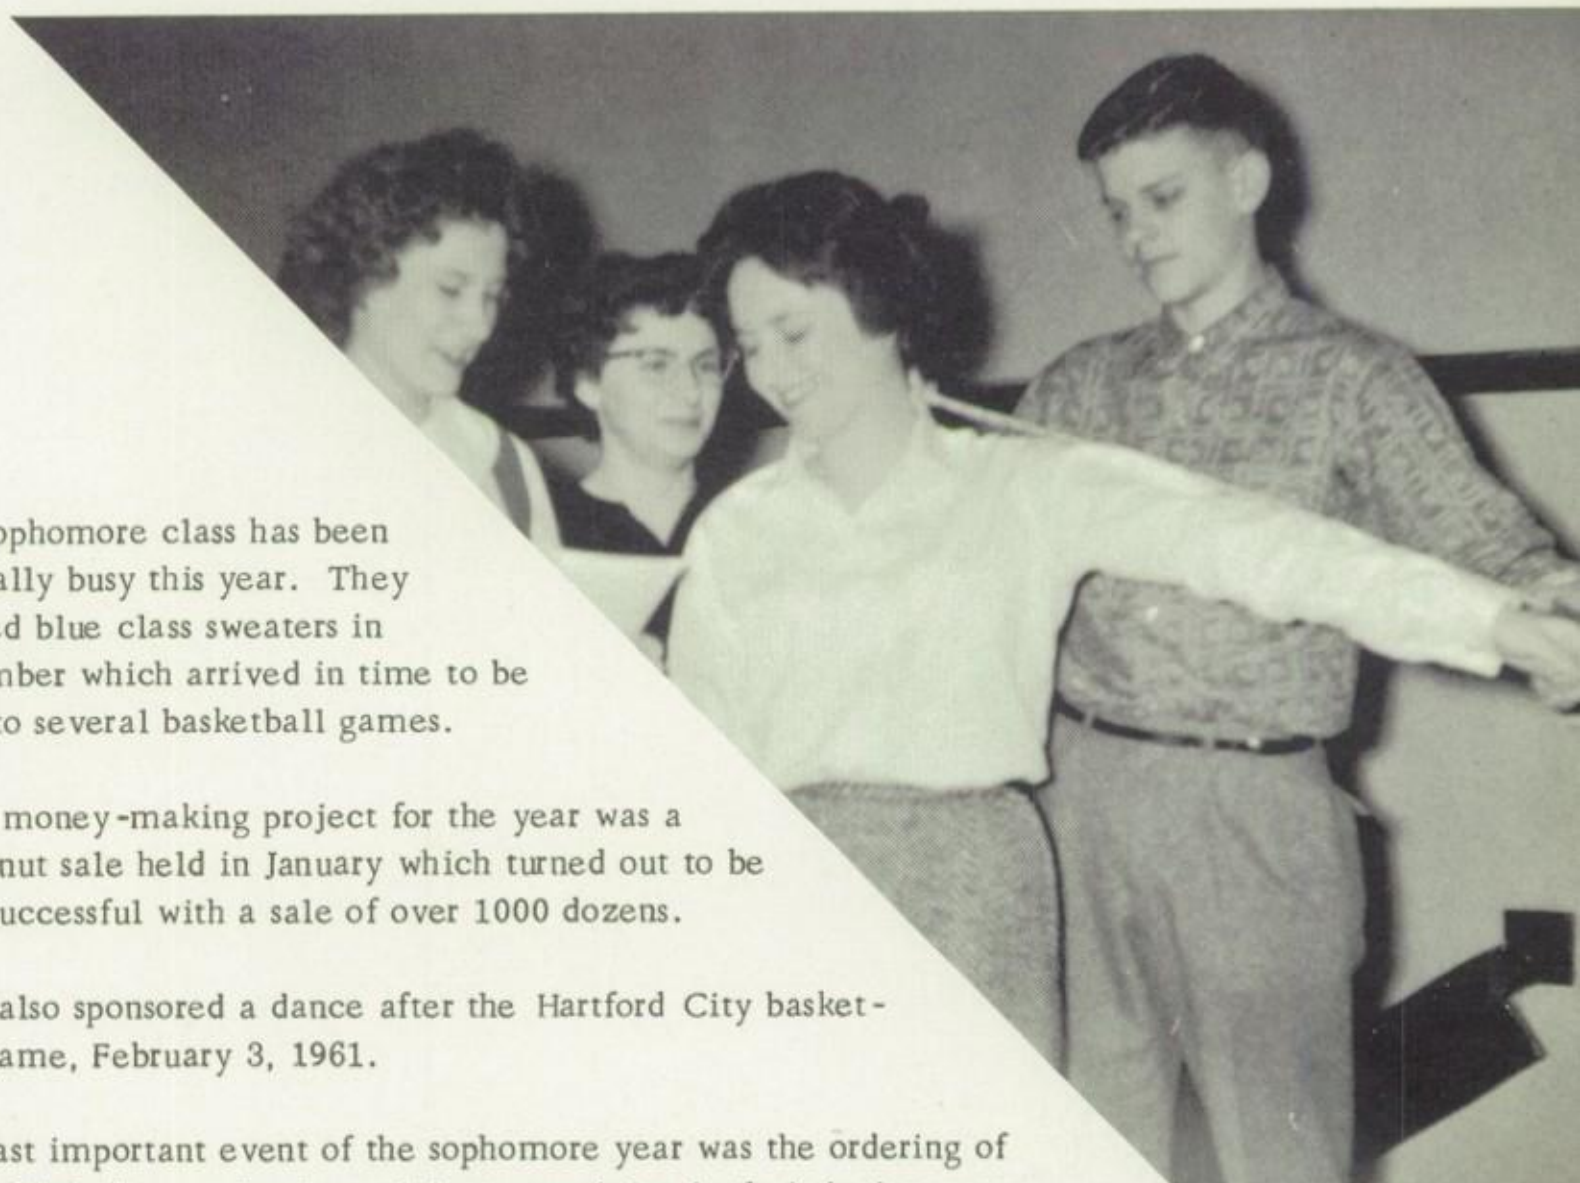
1000 DOZEN DOUGHNUTS!

Sophomore class officers, Don Havens, Pres.; Andy Barrum, Vice-Pres.; Cheryl Wilson, Sec.; and Bonnie Retherford, Treas.; measure the arm length for the class sweaters.



The sophomore class has been unusually busy this year. They ordered blue class sweaters in November which arrived in time to be worn to several basketball games.

Their money-making project for the year was a doughnut sale held in January which turned out to be very successful with a sale of over 1000 dozens.

They also sponsored a dance after the Hartford City basketball game, February 3, 1961.

The last important event of the sophomore year was the ordering of rings which they anxiously anticipate receiving in their junior year.

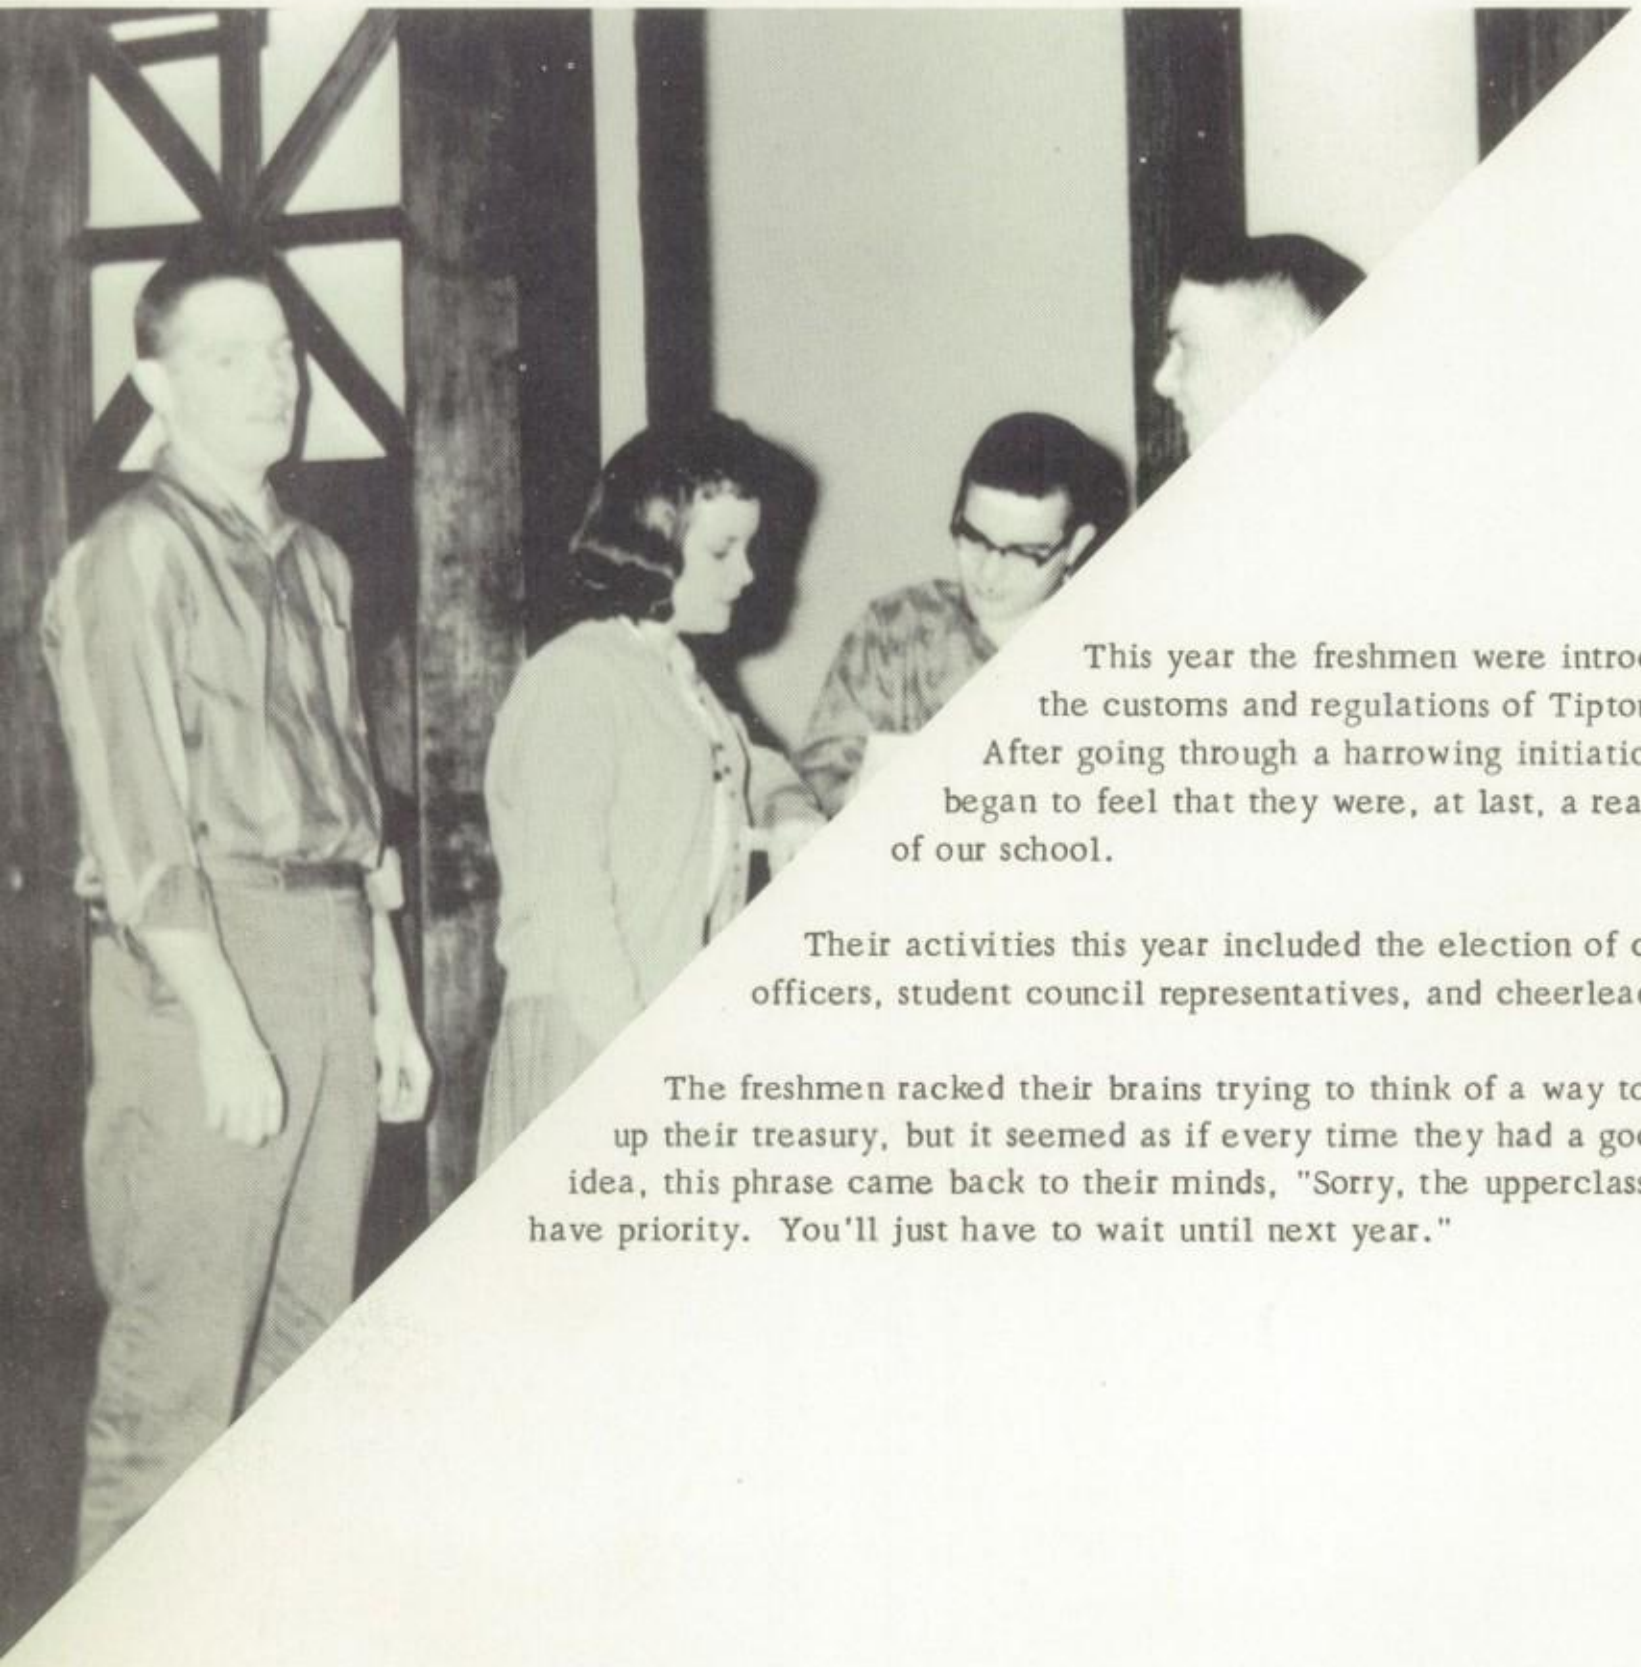
"Just wait until she finds out we're selling doughnuts --she'll jump for joy!" say Mike Lewellen and Jeff Hoover during the sophomore's selling campaign.

"NEXT YEAR," SAY FROSH

Dick McIntosh, Pres.; Bill McGraw, Vice-Pres.; Lynn Ann De Vault, Sec.; Steve Vanhorn, Treas.; check the Freshman schedule.



This year the freshmen were introduced to the customs and regulations of Tipton High. After going through a harrowing initiation, they began to feel that they were, at last, a real part of our school.

Their activities this year included the election of class officers, student council representatives, and cheerleaders.

The freshmen racked their brains trying to think of a way to build up their treasury, but it seemed as if every time they had a good idea, this phrase came back to their minds, "Sorry, the upperclassmen have priority. You'll just have to wait until next year."

Students in Mr. Clossin's Junior High history class seem to be studying very diligently.

One of Clossin's big five goes up for the jump ball in the Peru, Jr. High basketball game.

M. Fakes, S. Lett, C. Hinshaw, and D. Stoops admire trophies won by their basketball, football, and track teams.
